Guidelines and application forms for applicants wishing to take part in the Socrates programme are now available for downloading from the Internet.

The second phase of the programme, Socrates II, covers the period 1 January 2000 to 31 December 2006. It will be implemented in two stages in order to preserve the continuity of the programme. In stage 1, covering the year 2000, most of the actions will run along similar action lines to Socrates I. Stage 2 will be implemented from 2001 when more substantial changes will have been introduced following a large scale information campaign.

The 'Guidelines for applicants 2000' should be read together with the guidelines for 1998.

Both guidelines and application forms can be accessed at:
