

Content archived on 2022-11-17

SCIENCE, DECT, marine science, telematic systems, computer programmes

Under the cooperation procedure provided for by Article 149 (2) of the EEC Treaty, the Council has established common positions on proposals submitted by the Commission relating to: a Cooperation Agreement between the EEC and Iceland on a programme plan to stimulate cooperatio...

Under the cooperation procedure provided for by Article 149 (2) of the EEC Treaty, the Council has established common positions on proposals submitted by the Commission relating to: a Cooperation Agreement between the EEC and Iceland on a programme plan to stimulate cooperation and interchange needed by European scientists (SCIENCE); a Directive on frequency bands designated for the introduction of digital European cordless telecommunications (DECT); a Council Decision adopting a specific RTD programme in the field of marine science and technology (1990-1994); a Council Decision adopting a specific RTD programme in the field of telematic systems in areas of general interest (1990-1994); a Council Directive on the legal protection of computer programmes.

Related articles

POLICY MAKING AND GUIDELINES

Proposed RTD programme in the field of telematic systems

5 January 1991

NEWS

Proposed RTD programme in marine science and technology

28 December 1990

NEWS

Last update: 31 January 1991

Permalink: <https://cordis.europa.eu/article/id/195-science-dect-marine-science-telematic-systems-computer-programmes>

European Union, 2025