* CONDITIONS * .. : Temporary files deletion disclaimer

Temporary files may be generated by the various processes for their needs and operations. Temporary files will not be used by anyone but the actual user of the input data that generated them. This is part of our data protection policy aimed at safeguarding the owner rights on the data travelling through the web services. Temporary files will be automatically deleted from the system after 2 days, even if they are not accessible to anyone but the actual user. It is the sole responsibility of the input provider to check and ensure that (s)he has the right to use the input data provided to the platform. No access or use of the temporary files will be allowed other than estipulated in this disclaimer.

Fair Share Policy on Parallel Process Running

Users are kindly asked not to submit more than 2 processes/requests in parallel. This is part of the fair share policy implemented so as to allow all users to benefit from the web services offered by the PANACEA platform. If this policy is not complied with in a way that prevents other users from using the web services, users concerned may be prevented from submitting processes/requests, their exceeding processes may be killed and they may be black-listed for future use.

In the event of an exceptional need to use the platform in a manner not covered by this disclaimer, users are kindly adviced to address the contact point of the web service(s) required so as to study the possibility of establishing an exceptional usage for those web services.
