SMARD project website:

url: www.smard-project.eu

The website serves as platform for communication with target groups and interested parties. It informs about the objectives and activities of the project. The results available for the public (e.g. as reports, brochures, etc.) will be available through the website. Further in informs about the partners and events SMARD project is involved.

The Communication Manager is in charge of the website coordination and updates. All project partners are requested to deliver inputs and news for the website. The website as communication tool will be adapted to the project’s needs. This means that unused categories will be deleted or additional features will be included throughout the project duration.
