Scientific Publications Relating to the Project

The ASPICE project has generally followed the proposed dissemination plan, ensuring audiences have been target appropriately. Below are listed all the reference tools that were used to get information for the various documents and tools that were then disseminated out to our audiences.

Table 1, Template A1: list of scientific (peer reviewed) publications relating to the foreground of the project, starting with the most important ones. All of the sources listed below have open access provided to the publications (unless otherwise noted).
