INTRODUCTION

The present document is a deliverable of the SEACOOOP initiative, supported (through the funding of the SEALING project) by the Directorate General Information Society and Media of the European Commission under the “7th EU Framework Programme for Research and Technological Development”, or FP7 (see <http://cordis.europa.eu/fp7> for full details).

The SEALING project work plan is divided into work packages (WP), each of them being subdivided into tasks.

One of the work packages, WP3: Synergies with international dialogues and activities, aims at liaising with EC programmes and initiatives, and with MS, AS and ASEAN initiatives.

This WP is structured into 2 tasks:

- Task 3.1: Liaison with EC programmes and initiatives
- Task 3.2: Liaison with MS, AS and ASEAN initiatives

The present document is a deliverable related to this WP and reporting on the activities developed during the fourth 6-month period of the project (from July 1, 2011 to December 31, 2011).

SEACOOP IN A NUTSHELL

SEACOOP is an initiative aiming at strengthening cooperation on ICT research between Europe and the countries that are members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN): Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam. This initiative is supported since 2004 by the European Commission (Directorate General Information Society and Media) through its Framework Programme for Research and Technological Development (FP6 and FP7), and by the ASEAN Secretariat since 2008.

Among developed SEACOOP activities over the period 2010-2011:

- Identification and analysis of ICT policy and research priorities, at bilateral and regional levels, and provision of recommendations for future cooperation initiatives,
- Organization of cooperation events in Europe and in Southeast Asia synchronised whenever possible with policy dialogue meetings,
- Development of synergies with dialogues and activities launched under EU-funded programmes, at the initiative of EU Member States and Associated States, and at the ASEAN level,
- Development of promotion, dissemination and awareness-raising activities.

One of the main expected outputs of SEALING activities is logically a strengthened development of concrete cooperation projects in ICT research, namely under FP7.

SEALING is coordinated by Sigma Orionis, a company based in France and devoted to supporting cooperative research in ICT and global ICT developments, and includes, on the Southeast Asian side, organisations playing a key role in ICT policy and research in each of the ten ASEAN countries:

- Advanced Science and Technology Institute (ASTI), Philippines
- Agency for the Assessment and Application of Technology (BPPT), Indonesia
- Institute for Infocomm Research (I<sup>2</sup>R), Singapore
- Multimedia Development Corporation (MDEC), Malaysia
- National Authority for Science and Technology (NAST), Laos
- National Council for S&T Policy (NCSTP), Vietnam
- National Science and Technology Development Agency (NECTEC), Thailand
- National ICT Development Authority (NiDA), Cambodia
- University of Brunei Darussalam (UBD), Brunei Darussalam
- University of Computer Studies, Yangon (UCSY), Myanmar

For further information, please visit the SEACOOP web site or contact us.

LIAISON WITH EUROPEAN PROGRAMMES AND INITIATIVES

One of the SEACOOOP objectives is to develop possible synergies with European national and international programmes and initiatives also addressing Southeast Asia region as a whole or one of the 10 ASEAN countries (or even Asia as a whole) and aimed at ensuring the highest impact of the project.

During the whole project period, an important effort was given in particular to establish or strengthen close liaison with EU-funded projects and EC programmes. These synergies have been fully beneficial, in particular in the co-organisation of events and the involvement of these projects and programmes in SEACOOOP events through the contribution of speakers.

EU-FUNDED PROJECTS AND INITIATIVES

THE TEIN3 INITIATIVE

TEIN (Trans-Eurasia Information Network) is a flagship initiative led by Dante in the area of “e-Infrastructures” aimed “to provide a dedicated high-capacity network for research and education communities across Asia-Pacific, connecting countries in the region, and providing direct connectivity to Europe’s GÉANT (2) network”.

During the reported period, TEIN has been invited to participate in the 6th SEACOOOP Cooperation Forum on ICT Research and ICT for Development held on October 25, 2011 in Myanmar. On this occasion, Denis Villorente, Director of ASTI, SEACOOOP partner for the Philippines, presented the ongoing 3rd phase and the planned 4th phase of the TEIN initiative.

THE IDEAL-IST NETWORK

Ideal-IST is an international ICT partner search network, with more than 60.000 contacts in line with the international cooperation strategy of the European Commission. Today the Ideal-IST network involves 67 ICT national partners from EU and Non-EU Countries, such as Associated States, Eastern European Partner Countries (EEPC), Mediterranean Partner Countries (MPC) and emerging countries like China, Brazil, India, and South Africa.

As a result from the SEACOOOP participation (through NECTEC, its local partner in Thailand) in the FP7 Info day and the NCP Training event organised in June 2011 in Jakarta, Indonesia, the ICT NCP for India, focal point of Ideal-IST in Asia, invited NECTEC (ICT NCP of Thailand) to join this network. To date, NECTEC is considering this opportunity. For further information on the FP7 Info day and NCP Training event, see D4.4.

THE SEA-EU-NET PROJECT

The SEA-EU-NET project, funded by DG Research, aims at facilitating the bi-regional EU-ASEAN S&T dialogue. Since the project objectives are quite similar to the ones of the SEALING-SEACOOOP project but at a cross-thematic level (SEALING-SEACOOOP addresses only the ICT theme), the two initiatives can be considered as fully complementary one to each other. On the occasion of the SEACOOOP 6th Cooperation Forum in Myanmar, the SEA-EU-NET project has been invited to participate and contribute in the discussion on good practices, lessons learnt and case studies.

THE SYNCHRONISER PROJECT

Synchroniser aims at boosting the impact of EU-India ICT policy level decisions by communicating the recommendations and innovative ideas of researchers and stakeholders to policy makers, and disseminating the outcomes of policy dialogues to the ICT communities of both regions. It is supported both by the European Commission through its 7th Framework Programme for Research and Technological Development and the Ministry of Information Technology, India. During the reported period, information of the outputs of the two projects has been exchanged, namely in the perspective of comparing the methodologies used in the two projects to map cooperation priorities.

THE EURASIAPAC PROJECT

The EURASIAPAC project is supported by the European Commission under FP7 (the project is also in the portfolio of the International relations Unit of DG Inso) and aims at strengthening cooperation in ICT research between Europe and Asia-Pacific countries (Australia, New Zealand, Japan, and the Republic of Korea). Since the SEACOOOP / SEALING coordinator is also a partner of the EURASIAPAC project, it has been easy, during the reported period, to continue exchanging information of the developments and outputs of the two projects, namely as for the methodologies used in the two projects to map cooperation priorities.

THE CASAGRAS2 PROJECT

CASAGRAS2 consists in a group of stakeholders representing Europe, the USA, China, Japan and Korea who have partnered in a FP7 project looking at global standards, regulation and other issues concerning RFID and its role in realising an “Internet of Things”. During the reported period, contacts established with CASAGRAS2 on the occasion of the 4th SEACOOOP cooperation forum (focusing on Internet of Things and organized in Vietnam in April 2011) have continued to develop, in particular to support organizations having participated in this event and interested in the development of concrete cooperation projects.

THE SECAS PROJECT

SECAS is also a project in the portfolio of the International relations Unit of DG Info and intends to be seen as “a strategy and information dissemination initiative that aims at improving European ICT research collaboration with both Singapore and Australia based on identification and demonstration of mutual interest in RTD cooperation and sharing best practices”. During the reported period, the close liaison with this project, established at the start of the SEALING project, has been maintained, in particular regarding exchange of information and lessons learned.

OTHER EUROPEAN PROGRAMMES AND INITIATIVES

THE STIC-ASIE PROGRAMME

STIC-Asie (or ICT-Asia) is a French programme supported by the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs and the Ministry of Higher Education and Research, France. The main objective of the the initiative is to reinforce, on a mutual benefit basis, high-level collaborations with Asian scientific communities in the ICT domain while contributing to the integration of less advanced countries in the area. The program covers 16 Asian countries: Brunei, Burma (Myanmar), Cambodia, China, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Laos, Malaysia, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand and Vietnam

During the reported period, Ms Cécile Faraud, Policy Officer, Embassy of France, Thailand has been invited to introduce STIC-Asie at the 6th SEACOOP Cooperation Forum on “ICT Research and ICT for Development” held on October 25, 2011 in Myanmar, which provided the opportunity to share detailed information on the two projects and agree on possible synergies (namely cross-promotion of activities).

READI

The Regional EU-ASEAN Dialogue Instrument (READI) is a EU-funded programme aimed at supporting the efforts of the ASEAN Secretariat and of the ASEAN Member countries to harmonise policies and regulations in non-trade related sectors (including ICT), drawing on European experience. It is expected that, by achieving this goal, citizens of the ASEAN Member States will benefit from stronger economic growth, increased leverage as a Union, and enhanced social opportunities as standards of living are ultimately improved among all its Member States.

In July 2011, the SEACOOP partner from Thailand circulated the Terms of Reference of READI, during the special meeting of ASEAN Telecommunications & Information Technology Senior Officials (Special ASEAN Telsom 2011, agenda available in Annex). On September 1st, 2011, the READI project officially started. The READI programme was presented at the latest SEACOOP event in Myanmar by Mads Korn, Attaché (Cooperation) from the Delegation of the European Union to Thailand, as part of the session on “European, ASEAN and global mechanisms supporting cooperation in ICT”.

DG DEVELOPMENT AND COOPERATION - EUROPEAID

Development and Cooperation - EuropeAid is a new Directorate-General (DG) responsible for designing EU development policies and delivering aid through programmes and projects across the world. It incorporates the former Development and EuropeAid DGs.

A close liaison has been established with this DG on the occasion of the 6th SEACOOP Cooperation Forum on ICT research and ICT for development held in Myanmar on October 25, 2011. Activities supported in this framework have been introduced by Mads Korn, Attaché (Cooperation), Delegation of the European Union to Thailand who highlighted the potential interest of this programme for Southeast-Asian stakeholders as it addresses in particular the ASEAN region and, at the same time ICT-based development projects.

EUROASIA-ICT.ORG

In order to give a more coherent image of the various projects in the portfolio of the International relations Unit of DG Infs, addressing the development of cooperation in ICT research between Europe and Asia and facilitating the liaison between these projects, Sigma Orionis, SEACOOP / SEALING coordinator, developed and put online in 2007 the euroasia-ict.org web platform. During the project period, this website has been updated on a regular basis.

LIAISON WITH EU AND ASEAN MEMBER STATES PROGRAMMES AND INITIATIVES

CONTACT WITH EU EMBASSIES IN SOUTHEAST ASIA

In order to ensure close liaison with European programmes and initiatives conducted by Member States or Associated States, the SEACOOP project contacted, during the reported period, the 9 EU delegations in ASEAN countries inviting them to kindly dispatch SEACOOP information to the Member States Embassies in their countries (more precisely to the S&T counsellors in these Embassies).

Even if the effect has been quite limited (MS Embassies logically focus on their national projects) some interesting contacts have been established with MS S&T counsellors in Southeast Asia, and the participation of MS Embassies in the 6th SEACOOP event held in Myanmar has been quite important (representants from the British, German, French and Italian Embassies have attended the event).

EU-SEA BILATERAL AND MULTILATERAL PROGRAMMES

During the reported period, the SEACOOP Southeast-Asian partners have been invited to update the document (included into the SEACOOP public document mapping cooperation priorities in ICT research between the two regions) detailing bilateral and multi-lateral programmes (SEACOOP partners have indeed, considering their position regarding ICT policy and research in their countries, the most relevant information on these programmes). They have also been invited to increase their efforts to identify any possible synergies between SEACOOP and these programmes.

LIAISON WITH ASEAN INITIATIVES

ASEAN SECRETARIAT

In a context of continuous support of the ASEAN Secretariat to the SEACOOP partnership, further exchanges with this institution were established in the last months of the project. Two ASEAN Secretariat delegates (Dr Alexander Lim, Head of the S&T Division and Emir Rio Krishna, Technical Officer of S&T Division) contributed to the 6th SEACOOP Cooperation Forum in Myanmar. In the welcome address prepared for this event, Dr Lim, underlined an important SEACOOP achievement: having succeeded putting all ASEAN ICT researchers together in a collaborative context (and connecting them to Europe).

ASEAN SCMIT

The ASEAN Sub-Committee on Microelectronics and IT (SCMIT) is the ASEAN Technical Committee in charge of ICT. The fact that many SEACOOP / SEALING partners are involved in this Committee and that it is currently chaired by a SEACOOP / SEALING partner (the University of Computer Studies, Yangon), facilitated close interaction with this group.

On Nov. 21-211, 2011 in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, SEACOOP partners participated in the “41st SCMIT meeting”, organized in the framework of the 62nd COST meeting and of the 14th AMMST meetings. This meeting focused on the brainstorming of its action plan. NECTEC (SEACOP partner for Thailand) introduced the “SEACOOP Mapping Priorities of Cooperation in ICT research between Europe and Southeast Asia” in this session. The meeting agenda is available in Annex.

SPECIAL ASEAN TELSOM MEETING, JULY 4-7, 2011, PATTAYA, THAILAND

NECTEC, SEACOOP partner from Thailand, cooperated with the Ministry of Information and Communication Technology, Thailand on the Special meeting of ASEAN Telecommunications & Information Technology Senior Officials (Special ASEAN Telsom 2011) held in July 2011 in Thailand. The importance of this meeting was to discuss, prioritise and allocate resources to advance regional ICT cooperation through the implementation of the ASEAN ICT Masterplan 2015 (AIM 2015). The agenda is available in Annex 1.

12TH ASEAN TELSOM AND 11TH ASEAN TELMIN, DECEMBER 5-9, 2011, NAY PYI TAW, MYANMAR

The 12th ASEAN Telecommunications & Information Technology Senior Officials Meeting (12th ASEAN TELSOM 2011) and 11th ASEAN Telecommunications & Information Technology Ministers' Meeting (11th ASEAN TELMIN 2011) on the theme "ICT: Engine for growth in ASEAN" took place in December 2011 in Myanmar.

NECTEC, SEACOOOP partner for Thailand, was invited to participate in this meeting through the Ministry of Information and Communication Technology, Thailand. The meeting agenda (reproduced in Annex) included the Dialogue Partner Discussion between ASEAN TELSOM and the European Commission to enhance future cooperation between the two regions and contribute to the building of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) at the horizon of 2015.
