

ERAMIND (European Research Area – Mobile Researchers in Industry)

ERAMIND Project, which was conducted between 2008-2011, aimed to improve the overall competence of the EURAXESS network in services provided to industry and to facilitate the cooperation between EURAXESS members on this issue; as the follow up of the study and working document entitled “Industry Participation in ERAMORE, A collection of experiences” which had been published in November 2006.

These objectives has been achieved through:

- A network of industry end-users;
- Raising awareness of industry needs and expectations in EURAXESS via targeted meetings;
- Exchange of expertise and networking among EURAXESS service centres in serving industry;
- Preparing useful tools for EURAXESS members.

ERAMIND Consortium has realized coordination meetings with industry representatives and EURAXESS Network Members, at which they had to chance to discuss the possible collaborations. Industry representatives expressed their needs and expectations from EURAXESS and EURAXESS Network Members presented their services. These meetings proved to be most successful tool in presenting the EURAXESS to industry, as well as learning how to improve EURAXESS services to industry.

With the help of interaction with industry representatives in various platforms; like Advisory Board meetings of the project, coordination meetings between industry and EURAXESS network members, surveys and industry end users network; ERAMIND has developed implications to be employed in EURAXESS Network while communicating with industry. The further studies of the issue will be followed up in EURAXESS TOP 2 Project.
