

Representative figures of the 'ToughBridge' project: (a) Peeling of heterogeneous tapes that overcome the adhesion performance classically achieved by traditional homogeneous tapes; (b) Snapshot of a crack propagating in a heterogeneous ductile materials; (c) The morphology of fracture surfaces (top panels) and their corresponding statistical analysis (lower panels) that reveal strikingly similar features, signature of microscopic failure processes common to this a priori very different materials.