

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This project would have not materialized without the significant contribution of certain individuals and organizations. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to all of them.

I am highly indebted to the Greek Athletics Federation (SEGAS) for their cooperation to allow the use of their online platform and disseminate to all the Authentic Marathon runners and volunteers our questionnaire. Their kind help and support played a pivotal role in collecting data from more than 2000 runners and volunteers.

I would like to express my gratitude to the University of Florida, USA and especially Dr Kaplanidou, Associate Professor, for her precious help in providing the tools and facilities for constructing the online questionnaire but also for generously offering her research knowledge and expertise in our data analysis and generation of reports. During the data analysis phase, the guidance and assistance of Professor Clive Richardson from Panteion University was also central in resolving any rising issues and challenges.

An important step for the materialization of this project was the completion of a Systematic Review. The meticulous and thorough work produced was a result of the hard work delivered from Dr Shushu Chen, Lecturer in Edge Hill University, UK and Professor Ian Henry, Director of the Centre for Olympic Studies & Research at Loughborough University, UK who both acted as members of the Systematic Review Panel. Their dedication and enthusiasm for fulfilling the aims of the project were most encouraging for its progress and completion.

My thanks are also extended to Dr James Skinner, Associate Dean for Enterprise and Director of the Institute for Sport Business, at Loughborough University in London who, without any hesitation, shared all his resources, tools and relevant questionnaires that he has used in his own research on social capital. His material guided our research and provided us with key knowledge for the data collection and analysis.

I would also like to express my special gratitude to all those people who offered their help during our data collection. Their presence on site during the pilot and main phases of the (paper questionnaire survey) data collection facilitated our work to a great extent. Those people are: Dr. Dimitra Papadimitriou, Associate Professor at the University of Patras, Nikos Choutas and Andreas Mpaltas, Doctoral candidates in Panteion University and Christina Tsagdi, head of volunteers in SEGAS.

My thanks and appreciation also go to the administration staff from Panteion University for their commitment and willingness to overcome any rising issues during difficult times for the country and the operation of the university. Particularly, the LEAR Officer Aggeliki Kardiakaftiti as well as current and past staff in ELKE Research Office Pinelopi Lekaditi, Katerina Papakonstantinou, Eva Makri, Niki Karaoulani were very supportive and helpful in every way possible.

Finally, I would like to thank the Scientist in Charge, Professor Athanasios Papadaskalopoulos, as well as all the teaching, research and administration staff of the Regional Development Institute for creating an excellent working environment that offered me multiple opportunities to engage in interesting discussions within and beyond academia.
