Figure 7. Schematic illustrating broad method groupings and the inter-linkages between them. Broad method groups are colour-coded by the types of values they encompass (individual or combinations of value types). Boxes with white background represent examples of specific methods.