Figure nº 22.- In deliverable D7.6 a guide of process to follow by customer and foundry was proposed following the trend to train and give a global service to customer, profiting the new knowledge acquired during FLEXICAST

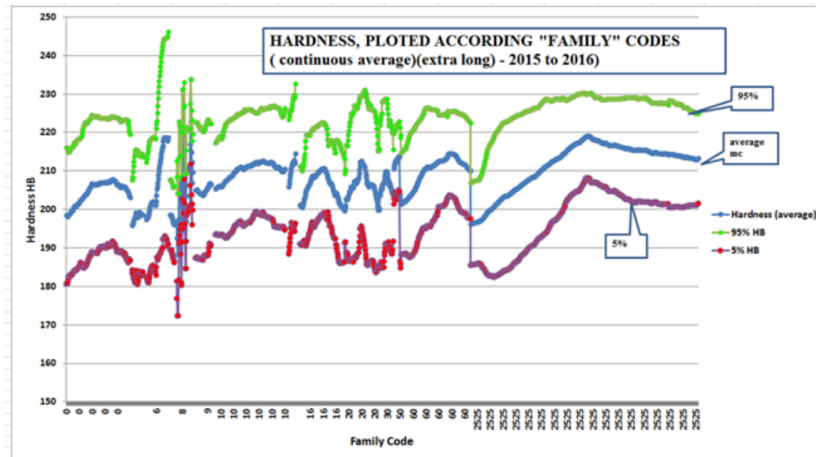

Figure nº 23.- A protocol to classify the pieces by "families", and defining the expected characteristics (mechanical and level of defects and type), has been built up to indicate the end user and foundry the expected characteristics of a new parts, following the trend of giving global services to customer.