

Fig. 1: The surgeon views the surgical scene on a video display with images provided by a camera mounted on a robotic arm that follows the heart motion, showing a stabilized view. As a result, the surgeon operates on the heart as if it were stationary, while the robotic system actively compensates for the relative motion of the heart.