

Figure 3. Sounds associated with feeding in serrasalmid fishes. Intense feeding activity by red-bellied piranhas (Pygocentrus nattereri) on dead herring and associated sound spectrogram below (A), splash of a walnut dropped into an aquarium to mimic a falling seed or palm fruit and attract tambaqui (Colossoma macropomum) and associated spectrogram (B), and cracking of a walnut by the oral jaws of tambaqui and associated spectrogram (C).