

 Inhalt archiviert am 2022-07-06

Democracy and populism: dangerous connections?

Faced with a variety of forms and the trivialization of its usage, the concept of populism has been criticized, refined, and even asserted. Should academia abandon it when qualifying diverse parties? DEMOS organizes workshop to address populism in different country contexts.

SOCIETY

 13 März 2020 - 13 März 2020

 Metz, France

© Julien Recouvreur (studio Edicom, Crem)

The event will take place on March 13 at the University of Lorraine in Metz, France. Participants should register by March 5 on the website: u2l.fr/crem-demos.

During the event, Zsolt Boda, leader of the DEMOS project from the Centre for Social Sciences in Budapest, will analyze populist governance and a model for application in Hungary. Nicolas Hubé, leader of the DEMOS team in France, and Martin Baloge from the University of Lorraine will examine the categorization of political parties such as La France Insoumise (Untamed France) and the National Rally as populists. Giuliano Bobba, leader of the project team at the University of Turin in Italy, will offer insights into the social networks of the Northern League and the Five Star Movement.

REGISTRATION

Check out the program details and registration (in French) at: <https://crem.univ-lorraine.fr/democratie-et-populisme-des-liaisons-dangereuses>

Schlüsselbegriffe

Populism, Democracy, Event, France, DEMOS, Fidesz, Five Star Movement, National Rally, Communication, workshop, Zsolt, Boda, Nicolas, Hube, Giuliano, Bobba, concept, Budapest, Turin, Lorraine, University

Beitragender

Bereitgestellt durch

Centre for Social Sciences

Budapest

Hungary

Website

Verwandte Projekte

PROJEKT

DEMOS

Democratic Efficacy and the Varieties of Populism in Europe

8 September 2023

Letzte Aktualisierung: 21 Februar 2020

Permalink: <https://cordis.europa.eu/event/id/147729-democracy-and-populism-dangerous-connections/de>

